

Migration News Sheet

Looking for a reliable source of news, policy and legal updates on migrants and refugees?

As someone involved in the topic of migration, either professionally, or personally, you will know, keeping yourself well informed can be difficult and time-consuming. Every day you see bad news, sensational headlines and complex policy and legal decisions, all too often dislocated from the real impact on human lives.

You would easily be overwhelmed by the number of sources and different languages you have to trawl through to get a meaningful overview of the situation in other countries across Europe.

The Migration News Sheet has been delivering independent, fact-checked monthly updates on migration, asylum and anti-discrimination since 1985. The MNS delivers the news from across Europe, separating fact from fiction and errors, cross-checking references and adding well-honed commentary to let you know the background, history and context of every story.

Based in Brussels, the MNS provides in-depth coverage of the workings of the EU institutions and makes sense of complicated legal decisions and their ramifications across the field.

Published by the Migration Policy Group, a European think-tank, the Migration News Sheet is a fully independent non-profit publication so you don't have to read between the lines. Instead you can enjoy the unique style, wit and commentary our readers tell us they love.

5 reasons to join our readership:

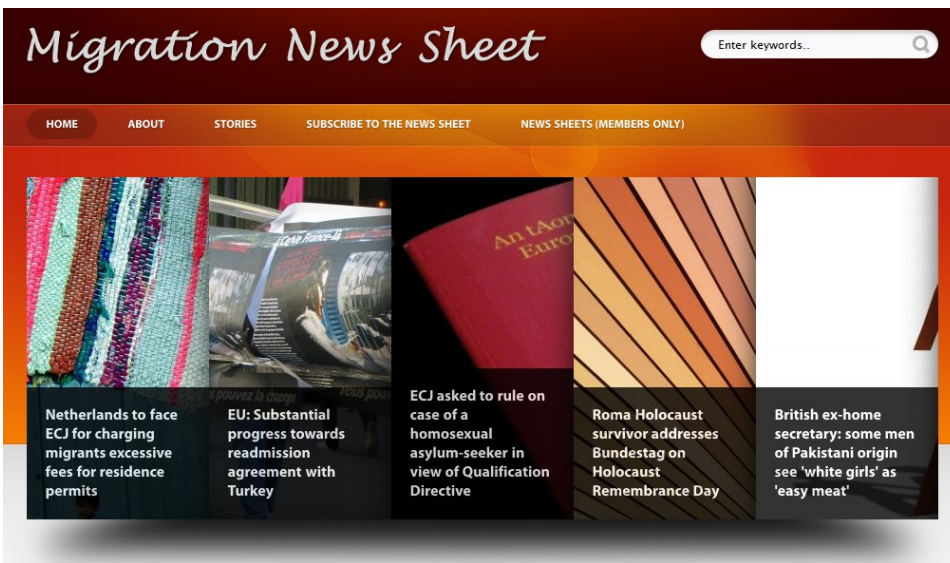

1. Because you don't have time to sift through an information overload and overcome language obstacles to find out what's happening in other countries across Europe
2. Because you need a reliable source of recent developments that is selected by an expert with an eye for spotting fakes
3. Because you want factual updates to inform your own opinions on a monthly basis - 12 times a year
4. Because you need precise summaries of recent developments in your field
5. Because you are a stickler for the truth and an independent thinker.
